today's bread:

Some men came and told Jehoshaphat, "A vast army is coming against you..." And Jehoshaphat feared, and set himself to seek the Lord and proclaimed a fast throughout all of Judah. 2 Chronicles 20:3,4 today's jam:

When the odds are against us, it's human nature to fear. Jehoshaphat did it. But he didn't surrender to it. He did the right thing by seeking God on the matter. I believe the best thing King Jehoshaphat could have done was to realize that the battle was not his alone, to fight. He knew where his deliverance would come from. Industry bail-outs and failing economy causing you to fear? Take some advice from old King J-phat.

today's prayer

starter:

Oh Father, there's a storm coming, and I don't know what to do. So I stand before you today, to gather my senses, my logic and my resources... and I say boldly and confidently, this battle is not mine to fight on my own, but this is your battle. You will cause my enemies to scatter, and I will give you the glory and the praise. For this victory is yours...
